

Kid's Bike Parade

Art & Whine Fusion

Saturday, July 10

12:00-1:30 pm

Calling kids of all ages - You can help us kick-off this year's street art festival in downtown White Salmon. Dress up your bike, yourself, or even your dog, and join us at the Heidi's gas station parking lot at noon on Sat. July 10th.

You'll have about an hour to turn in your registration and get your entry all dressed up before we line up and get ready to go.

At 1:00 pm the Kid's Bike Parade will start up Jewett Blvd with artists and spectators cheering you all along the way to the corner at City Hall.

When you get there Skyline Hospital nurses and a few juicy watermelons will show why everyone needs to wear a helmet when riding a bike.

Then they'll adjust your helmet so it fits and works right, and they'll even have some helmets for kids who don't.

After the parade you'll help Janet Essley do street chalk art by the salmon fence while the balloon man entertains with great balloon animals.

Oh yea, did we mention that prizes will be awarded for the best decorated parade entry in each category? So give it your best dressed and let's have some fun with this!

Don't forget, on the day of the parade be sure to come early to register and get everything ready for a fun time.
